LEE LIBRARY BOARD OF TRUSTEES

The Lee Public Library Board of Trustees would like to thank our library staff for their efforts and dedication during the pandemic. Even though the building was closed to the public, the staff continued to offer online services and, when given the approval by the health officers, resume curbside pickup. The programs for children have continued with Storytime on Facebook Live and craft kits available for pick up. Registration for the Summer Reading Program is underway.

The Governor's announcement of Guidelines for the re-opening of Libraries in NH prompted the trustees and staff to look closely at the building and devise a plan for securing staff safety. Staff interactions and in-person services pose a high risk of virus transmission. We are taking the steps necessary to ensure we can adhere to the Governor's Guidelines with availability of PPE, sanitizers and adherence to social distancing recommendations.

The library will reopen to the public on Monday, June 22nd. However, since space is limited (only eight patrons may be in the building at any one time), we ask that patrons continue to use curbside service as much as possible. Hours of operation may be found on the library's Facebook page.

It is essential that we continue to take precautions and so we are requesting that patrons wear a mask in the library. There will be masks available. We appreciate our patrons' patience and support during this time.

NH Department of Revenue Launches Annual Property Tax Relief Program

Applications for the Low and Moderate Income Homeowners Property Tax Relief program due June 30; provision allows for additional time to provide federal tax return

The New Hampshire Department of Revenue Administration (NHDRA) is accepting applications for its Low and Moderate Income Homeowners Property Tax Relief program through June 30, 2020. NHDRA distributed more than $1.1 million through this tax relief program last year, and more than $44 million in total since the Low and Moderate Income Homeowners Property Tax Relief program launched in 2002.

An eligible applicant for Low and Moderate Income Homeowners Property Tax Relief is a person who is:

- * Single with adjusted gross income less than or equal to $20,000; or
- * Married or head of New Hampshire household with adjusted gross income less than or equal to $40,000; and
- * Owns a homestead subject to the State Education Property Tax; and
- * Has resided in that homestead as of April 1, 2019.

Applicants are required to submit their individual income tax returns with the application. However, given the federal July 15 extension, some may not have filed their federal return by the June 30 Low and Moderate Income Homeowners Property Tax Relief program deadline. An existing provision allows NHDRA to accept late applications, if complete, until November 1 if the Commissioner believes the individual was prevented from completing his or her application in certain circumstances.

Additional information is available in this press release or on the NHDRA website.

Taxpayers with questions should call Taxpayer Services at (603) 230-5920, press prompt 2, then prompt 2 again.

Stay at Home Order Expired June 15, 2020

The Stay at Home 2.0 order has been replaced by Safer at Home. Guidelines still must be followed and can be found at <https://www.covidguidance.nh.gov/>

Town Offices remain closed to the public at this time but we are working on a plan to be able to reopen to the public. Town employees continue to work both remotely and on site and remain committed to ensuring the safety of both employees and the public.

Please stay safe and keep everyone else safe by continuing to follow the CDC's guidelines – limit social contact – wash your hands – stay in if you are sick – clean and sanitize surfaces.

YARD SALES AND TREE CUTTING NOTICE

Yard Sales are now allowed, but you may only place a sign on your own property or at a friend's house (be sure to get permission first) and remove the signs promptly after the yard sale is over. Signs are not allowed in the Lee triangle (where George Bennett, Mast and Lee Hill Roads meet) or on any other town-owned property, including on the side of both state and town roads. You must follow the guidance for retail establishments as well as the universal guidelines established by the Governor's office found here <https://www.covidguidance.nh.gov>

Although it is great to have your trees "removed for free" be sure that the logger follows all of the laws pertaining to tree cutting. As the homeowner, please reach out to Caren Rossi to see what is required, i.e. no-cut buffers, Intent to Cut form, etc. Unfortunately, I have seen many homeowners become a victim of this "offer" and it ends up costing the homeowner more money to fix the problems created by the "free" removal than hiring a company to remove them correctly. Unfortunately, the fault lies with the homeowner and you may have more than just brush to clean up.

VOTING INFORMATION

On April 10, 2020, a memorandum was issued concluding that “in light of the current public health state of emergency, Emergency Orders #16 and #26, and current public health guidance on social distancing and avoiding being in public in groups of 10 or more, all voters have a reasonable ground to conclude that a ‘physical disability’ exists within the meaning of RSA 657:1.” Even if a person does not consider them self a person with disability in other circumstances, the term applies for registering and voting in 2020. RSA 654:16. Therefore, all New Hampshire citizens may apply for voter registration by mail. Obtain an Absentee Voter Registration Form, affidavit, and instruction package by e-mailing (lreinhold@leenh.org or estone@leenh.org) or mailing (7 Mast Road, Lee, NH 03861). If unable to request by email/mail, please call 603-659-2964.

PLEASE BE ADVISED THAT WE ARE NOT WIPING DOWN PLAYGROUND EQUIPMENT, PICNIC BENCHES OR ANY OTHER SURFACES

Be smart. Do your part.

The Town of Lee urges our residents and visitors to do their part to stop the spread of COVID-19 in our community. If you go to a park or trail to exercise, use extreme caution. Maintain at least 6 feet of distance between yourself and others when outside and wear a mask if you cannot maintain this distance. Cookouts are also not permitted in Little River Park, until further notice. Avoid touching surfaces including playground equipment, benches, and other sports equipment that are handled by others.

NH Department of Health and Human Services Resource Guide and Warm Line to Support Families During COVID-19

Concord, NH – The New Hampshire Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS), Division for Children, Youth and Families (DCYF) has developed two new resources to help children, youth, families and caregivers during the COVID-19 emergency.

The first is “Supporting Child and Family Wellbeing During the COVID-19 Emergency,” a new resource guide with practical tips on how we can all support children and families during COVID-19. The guide also provides a list of resources available to families statewide. The second resource is the Family Support Warm Line, a partnership between DHHS and Waypoint. The Family Support Warm Line is a no-cost, confidential phone support line focused on promoting family resiliency. Residents can call 800-640-6486 and speak with family support professionals and parent partners for help with managing family challenges, coping strategies, or emotional support during COVID-19.

“Our data has shown a decline in the number of calls made to DCYF from those community helpers who regularly see kids face to face, but this is continues to be a stressful time for families and our focus has to remain on prevention,” said DCYF Director Joseph Ribsam. “Having resources readily available and a place where parents and caregivers can turn if they need to talk to someone can make a difference for our families and guide them to the services they need to stay strong and healthy, before they reach a tipping point that leads to abuse or neglect.”

The efforts stem from Emergency Order #22, issued by Governor Chris Sununu on April 1, which authorizes emergency funding for critical child protection services to ensure that New Hampshire families continue to receive the right services at the right time during the COVID-19 emergency. In addition to the Family Support Warm Line, the funding will support domestic violence and substance use supports, expansion of the DCYF Strength to Succeed Program, and additional technology support for DCYF-involved families.

March data from the Division for Children, Youth and Families (DCYF) shows a decrease in referrals to DCYF’s Central Intake, compared to the same time period over the past two years. New child abuse and neglect referrals are down nearly 50% each week overall.

To learn more about recognizing the signs of child abuse and neglect, visit Know and Tell, an education program offered through the Granite State Children’s Alliance, the Chapter Organization for the network of New Hampshire’s Child Advocacy Centers.

The Family Support Warm Line can be reached toll-free at 1-800-640-6486, Monday - Friday, 8:30 am - 4:30 pm. If you suspect child abuse or neglect, call the DCYF Central Intake line at (603) 271-6562 or toll-free (in state) at (800) 894-5533.

NEWS RELEASE – Consequences of Unemployment Fraud

By Attorney General Gordon J. MacDonald and Dept. of Employment Security Commissioner George Copadis
Monday, June 15, 2020

Concord, NH -- Attorney General Gordon J. MacDonald and Department of Employment Security Commissioner George Copadis urge all New Hampshire residents, especially those claiming unemployment compensation benefits through the Department of Employment Security, to be aware of the various kinds of fraud that the Employment Security Department detects, investigates, and prosecutes and the accompanying penalties if one is convicted of unemployment compensation fraud.

The Department of Employment Security provides unemployment compensation benefits to eligible claimants who are unemployed through no fault of their own. As a result of the COVID19 State of Emergency, the number of claims for unemployment compensation benefits increased dramatically.

Unemployment compensation fraud is a crime that carries with it serious, long-term consequences. Those filing for benefits should be aware that the Department of Employment Security, in conjunction with state and federal law enforcement agencies, investigates and prosecutes unemployment compensation fraud to protect New Hampshire's unemployment compensation trust fund and preserve benefits for those truly unemployed and meeting eligibility requirements. The New Hampshire Department of Justice has an embedded prosecutor dedicated to unemployment compensation fraud, and the Office has a long record of success in holding offenders accountable.

Earnings-related fraud, or unemployment compensation fraud, occurs when a claimant willfully makes a false statement or representation or knowingly fails to disclose a material fact for the purpose of obtaining or increasing the benefits or payments they receive, and to which they are not entitled. New Hampshire law provides the following possible consequences:

- Unemployment compensation fraud resulting in additional benefits of $1,000 or more is a class A felony, with a potential penalty of 7½ to 15 years in prison and/or a fine of up to $4,000, and payment of restitution equal to the amount of total benefits received by the individual, not just the amount of additional benefits received.
- Unemployment compensation fraud resulting in additional benefits of more than $500 but less than $1,000 is a class B felony, with a potential penalty of 3½ to 7 years in prison and/or a fine of up to $4,000, and payment of restitution equal to the amount of total benefits received by the individual, not just the amount of additional benefits received.
- Unemployment compensation fraud resulting in additional benefits of less than $500 is a class A misdemeanor, with a potential penalty of 12 months in the house of corrections and/or a fine of up to $2,000, and payment of restitution equal to the amount of total benefits received by the individual, not just the amount of additional benefits received.

In addition to the penalties described above, any individual convicted of unemployment compensation fraud is disqualified from receiving unemployment compensation benefits for one year from conviction.

Employer-assisted fraud occurs when, with the purpose that an employee commits the crime of unemployment compensation fraud, an employer commands, solicits or requests such employee to file for unemployment compensation benefits while still working for the employer and not reporting such work in the employee's claim. This conduct could constitute criminal solicitation in violation of RSA 629:2. The penalties for any individual convicted of criminal solicitation in this circumstance are the same as the crime that was solicited. For example, if the employee's false statement regarding hours worked for the employer would result in additional benefits of $1,000 or more, the employer could be prosecuted for criminal solicitation as a class A felony with a potential penalty of 7½ to 15 years in prison, and/or a fine of up to $4,000.

These laws are intended to protect the integrity of New Hampshire's unemployment compensation trust fund. That fund has served as a vital means to provide financial relief to thousands of New Hampshire workers during the COVID-19 State of Emergency. As the restrictions in effect due to the outbreak of COVID-19 are eased, those returning to full-time employment are not entitled to benefits. For those continuing with or returning to part-time employment, individuals need to be mindful of always answering the questions presented on their weekly unemployment claim truthfully. The best way to comply with the law and avoid potentially serious consequences is to report work and all earnings truthfully and accurately.

CHANGES TO MIXED PAPER

Mixed paper should now be placed with Municipal Solid Waste (MSW) until further notice. We are doing this to protect our employees, as it takes a great deal of handling and sorting in order to make it recyclable. When we are no longer under the conditions brought on by the COVID-19 pandemic, we will switch to having residents separate office paper and magazines from other types of paper in order to maximize our recycling revenue.

PLEASE CONTINUE PRACTICING SOCIAL DISTANCING

Both bays remain open as we have seen an improvement in the flow of traffic, but please try to avoid peak traffic day on Saturday. Everyone is doing a good job of maintaining a safe distance. In order for our employees and residents to maintain the recommended safe distance of 6', employees will not be stationed on the wall during this time but will be there to answer questions.

PLEASE KEEP CHILDREN IN YOUR VEHICLE

We understand that many of you have children at home with you as the schools and daycares have closed and you may not be able to leave them at home when you come to the Transfer Station but PLEASE have your child(ren) stay in your vehicle while you are disposing of trash and recyclables. This is for their safety! If they have to be out of the vehicle please keep them next to you at all times and do not let them run through the Transfer Station, roadways or parking areas.

There are several important issues you must be aware of regarding your household trash and recycling disposal if you or anyone in your household has been quarantined for COVID-19 or has tested positive for COVID-19. Your trash and recycling must be handled and disposed of under different rules. Please consult Caren Rossi, Lee's Health Officer to discuss the new steps that must be taken. Email is crossi@leenh.org or phone at 659-6783. Thank you for your cooperation in keeping everyone healthy!

Bulky items are accepted at the Transfer Station, HOWEVER, payment will be by check only – there will be a drop box available. Employees will not be able to assist with removing items from your vehicle but will be available to guide you, weigh items, and answer your questions.

Notice : Change in Services Due to Social Distancing Recommendation

Ready Rides is still operating during this time. We have adjusted our services to reflect the recommendations in place and to protect both our drivers and riders while still remaining available to those most vulnerable without taking them from their homes to incur possible contact with the virus. We are still providing rides to patients who require life sustaining services such as dialysis, blood transfusions, injections etc. We will take each request as they come in and assess the depth of the need. We are suspending all rides to counseling, physical therapy and general health and dental checkups. We recommend you utilize family friends and neighbors who you already have regular contact with to help provide rides during this short suspension.

A service we are adding to our registered riders is pharmacy pickups and food pantry and grocery pickups. If you have placed an order with Walmart.com or Hannaford.com we have volunteers who will pickup these orders and bring them to your door with minimal contact.

If you are unable to order online and you are in desperate need of help with acquiring food or some necessity here are some resources. Currently if you live in the town of Durham call 868-2324 for assistance. If you live in the town of Newfields call 772-9010 and ask for Helping hands for assistance.

Barrington, Lee, Madbury, New Market, Northwood, Barrington, Nottingham and Strafford towns do not directly have things in place yet. Call us here at 244-8719 and we will do our best to find a way to get you the help you need.

LEE CONSERVATION COMMISSION

Things to See and Places to Go – June 12 – June 20, 2020

TERRESTRIAL

Anytime: Explore an Ecotone - Ecotones will be the topic of Sunday's Nature Notes, and we'll explore some of the ecotones found along the purple ribbon trail in the Town Forest. You can read all about these particular ecotones on the Lee Conservation Commission's Facebook page: <https://www.facebook.com/LeeConservationCommission/>. If you don't have access to Facebook, here's a quick lowdown on what an ecotone is: An ecotone is a transition area between two different ecological communities. For example, a wetland is an ecotone - it's the transition area between an aquatic environment and a terrestrial environment. Though it is not always the case, generally ecotones are places of biological diversity and richness. An ecotone can be large or small, occur naturally or be human-generated. Sometimes the transition will be sharp - as where a forest meets a river; other times the transition is gradual, and species from each community as well as unique species will be found growing together. A walk along any of the trails in the Town Forest will take you to a number of these transition areas.

Anytime: Go on a Lady Slipper Hunt - The Town Forest, Maud Jones Memorial Forest, and the upland trail at Little River Park still have lady slippers in bloom - although the bloom time will soon be over. Take a walk and see how many you can find. Only 5% of lady slippers ever get pollinated - can you find one that's making a seed pod?

For Kids, Anytime: Dandelion Days - Though many people think dandelions get their name from the shaggy, mane-like flower head, the name is the corrupted version of the French name for this plant, dent de lion, which translates to "tooth of the lion" and refers to the serrated edges of the leaves, which really do resemble the lion of teeth in a lion's jaw which have toothed edges that look like teeth in a lion's jaw. Right now, most of the flowers are setting seed, although there are still blooms to be found, but the dandelions will soon be putting forth new blossoms. It's still possible to find both flowers and fluffy seed heads (or blow-dandies as my grandson calls them) Make the most of them with these child-friendly activities:

Make a Christmas Ornament: Use one or several seeds with their fluff parachutes still attached and put it/them into a clear plastic Christmas ball ornament. They're simple and ethereal-looking. Even a mason jar full of dandelion seed heads is lovely - and children, if they can resist blowing the seeds away, love putting together a jarful.

Use flower heads as paint brushes! Make Dandy Lions: Cut rough circles, draw lions' faces and place them on the flower heads to make your own little pride.

Make dandelion-dyed playdough: You may have to wait for the next flush of dandelion blooms to try this out, but rest assured, more dandelions are on the way. This video shows you how to make playdough using dandelion petals to dye it yellow:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=37Wwk28sbOw>

Critter Cards: Mass Audubon's Joppa Flats Education Center has issued two new critter cards. Each card provides information and several activities that you and your child can do. Folks are encouraged to post their observations, drawings, paintings, photos, poems, etc. Last week's critter card featured garter snakes: <https://blogs.massaudubon.org/theflats/critter-card-garter-snakes-not-garden-snakes/>

This video has some interesting information about garter snakes, too:

This week's critter card features cabbage white butterflies:

<https://www.facebook.com/MassAudubonJoppaFlats/photos/a.257414180946/10156889637850947/?type=3&theater>

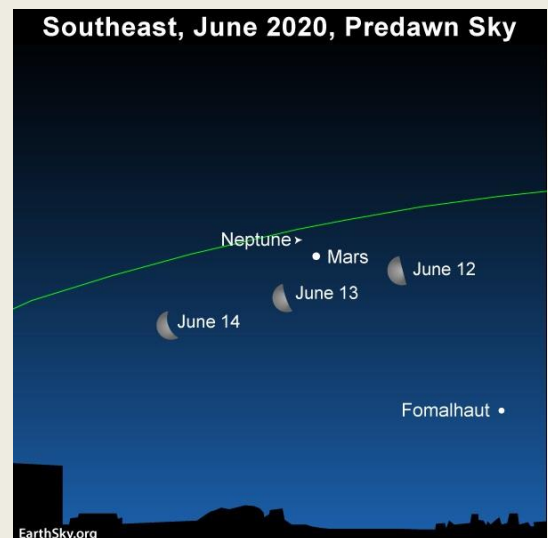

Though I hate it when they munch on my broccoli plants, cabbage white caterpillars are pretty cute when they first hatch:

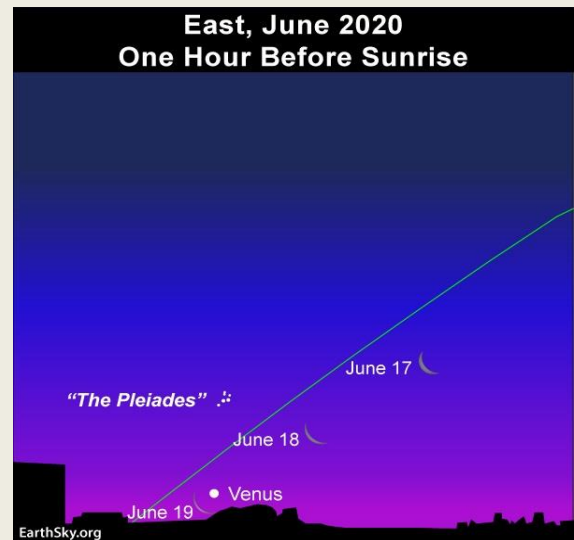

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=3aApXkKKgJ4&feature=youtu.be>

Anytime: Go on an Insect Safari, keep a record of what you find: Insects are easy to find, why not keep a checklist of insects you come across in your own backyard. This link can help with identification: <http://www.bugfacts.net/insects.php>

CELESTIAL

June 12-30 - Pre-sunrise walk: From now until the solstice (Saturday, June 20), the sun rises earlier than it will all year. Birdsong provides lovely background music, and the cool pre-dawn air is sweet and refreshing. It won't be long now before the days begin to shorten, and the end of the dawn chorus is really just a few weeks away. Treat yourself to one of the loveliest parts of the summer - if you don't feel like a walk, just sit outside with your coffee and enjoy. If you do feel like a walk, and have a place with a clear view of the southeast, on June 12-14 the Moon, Mars, Saturn, and Jupiter on display - even Neptune is up there, though you'll need a telescope to see that distant planet. Due east, on June 17-19, you'll find Venus dancing with a very thin, waning crescent moon.

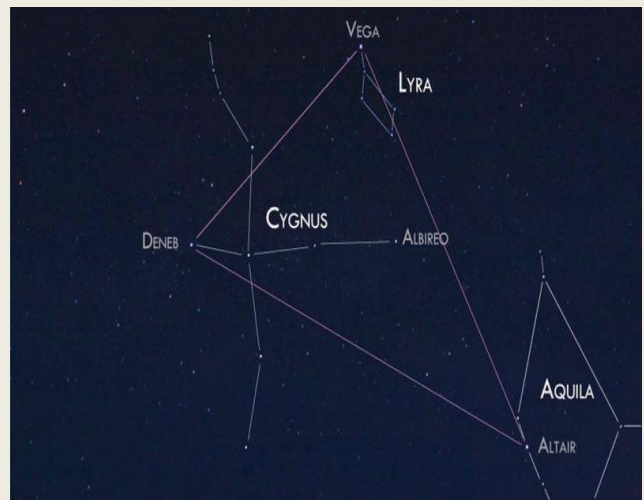

Throughout the summer, after dark - Summer Triangle: For us northerners, this huge asterism is a year-round presence in the night sky but in summer it really dominates the heavens, and it's fun to look up and find it on a warm, June evening.

The stars form the corners of the Summer Triangle are the alpha stars of three different constellations. After nightfall, look for the brightest star shining above the eastern horizon - that's Vega, the alpha star of Lyra (The Harp), and the brightest star in the Summer Triangle. To the lower left of Vega is another bright star, Deneb, the alpha star of Cygnus (The Swan), and the dimmest star of the Summer Triangle. Vega and Deneb form the endpoints of the shortest side of the Summer Triangle. The third star of this asterism, and the 2nd brightest is Altair, the brightest star in Aquila (The Eagle). You'll find Altair to the lower right of both Vega and Deneb.

Should you find yourself in a place with a beautifully dark sky this summer, use the Summer Triangle and the constellation Cassiopeia (when I was a kid, we called this constellation “Lady W”) to find the path of the Milky Way flowing through them.

June 20, 5:43 pm - Summer Solstice, summer begins - Our longest day and shortest night happens today. From this point on, the days will slowly grow shorter and the nights longer, although the days will remain longer than the nights until the Autumnal Equinox on September 20th.

Sunrise: 5:04 am - Because we'll be on birth-of-grandson-alert, this will be the first summer solstice sunrise that my husband and I have missed in some time. Most years we go to Odiorne to watch the Sun rise over the Atlantic. It's a beautiful thing to watch color creep into the world and the rim of the ocean grow molten with sunlight, and to think about the fact that we're riding on a planet spinning at 1000 miles per hour! If you get a chance, celebrate the first day of summer with a sunrise breakfast. If you get to the ocean early enough, say, between 4:00 and 4:15, to the east you'll see Venus, Mars, Saturn, and Jupiter stretched out along the ecliptic. They'll wink out as the sun lights up the world, but they'll keep you company in the interim.

Don't forget these two online resources to help you and your family explore the night sky:

EarthSky (<https://earthsky.org/>). The EarthSky website provides several weeks' worth of nightly write-ups about what's going on in the night sky, along with a brief daily feature giving more in-depth information about a particular night-sky object. They've very generously given their permission to have their graphics used in this newsletter, and I encourage you and your children to visit their website.

Stellarium (<https://stellarium-web.org/>), has replaced StarAtlas, but remains an interactive map of the night sky. This new incarnation will set itself to your location. You can change the time and date to coincide with when you'll be star-gazing, and the map scrolls in all directions. If, for instance, in your location the best place for viewing the night sky happens to be facing west, just scroll the map to show the stars, planets and satellites that will appear in that part of the sky. Once you have the sky set for viewing time and direction, you can click on objects in the sky and an information box will appear giving the object's name plus information about brightness, type of object, etc. This is a fantastic website.

TIMELY TOPICS FOR THE SUMMER SEASON

We are still in the midst of the COVID-19 and therefore still have to operate as such. In an effort to protect our personnel and the public the fire department is still operating under COVID-19 operations. We are still fully staffed and operating to protect our community but have had to put a hold on or adjust the way we provide some of our services. The fire department remains closed to all visitors but are working with town officials and the State for recommendations. All official business will continue to be conducted by phone or via email for now. Phone numbers and email addresses are provided on the Fire Department's web page.

Burn permits are still required for all outside burning and all State burning regulations are still in effect. Burning regulations and permits can be obtained at NH Fire Permit. Please check to see what the fire class for the day is prior to lighting any outside fire. Class 3 day or higher, all outside burning is not allowed. You can find out what fire class day it is by visiting the NH Forest and Lands website or look at the road side board at the Lee Public Safety Complex.

All station tours continue to be suspended as are all home visits for wood stove, burn permit and inspection purposes. Furnace installation inspections will be conducted on an emergency basis for emergency replacement only. All furnace replacement work shall be coordinated through the Fire Chief's office before any work is to be done.

Hopefully the virus emergency will be over soon and we can slowly return our operations to a normal level. All inquiries regarding the Town's response and current status for the virus should be made to the Town's Health Officer, Caren Rossi at the Planning Department.

With summer come thunder storms. Some storms can be severe and contain lightning, hail and wind. When lightning is in the area you should seek shelter indoors and away from windows. Do not shelter under trees or near tall objects. Be aware during high winds of trees, branches, power lines and debris being blown down. Occasionally these storms can cause downed power lines and power outages. We would like to remind everyone that we consider all downed lines as "energized" and should never be touched, moved or driven over. That includes cable and phone lines as they could be in contact with power lines at some point in the system. Call the fire department immediately and keep everyone away from the lines until the fire department arrives. With the power outages several people in our community use portable generators to power their homes. When using a portable generator follow all manufacturer's safety guidelines for your generator. They should be run at least twenty-five feet from the residence; exhaust should be pointed away from the residence and away from anything combustible. Never operate a generator in an enclosed space such as a garage or a shed. Generators emit carbon monoxide and can cause serious injury or death if run in-doors and carbon monoxide is allowed to accumulate.

As the water in rivers, ponds and lakes warm up and people begin swimming and boating, please take care and be safe. Be aware that we have had a colder than usual spring and night time temperatures can still drop into the low 40's. This has kept our water temperatures on the cold side. Please be aware that hypothermia is still possible even though air temperatures can be in the 80's and 90's if the water temperature is in the 50's or 60's. This is especially true for the very young and the older population. Use personal flotation devices while boating, water skiing, tubing etc.

Never swim alone even if you are a good swimmer. Follow all NH State Boating Regulations while boating on NH waterways.

Use caution while outdoor grilling. Keep grills at a safe distance from the residence or other structures while cooking. Have a hose or dry chemical extinguisher nearby to extinguish any grill fires before they get out of control. Make sure propane tanks are in date for hydrotesting and the gas lines are in good condition and not leaking. Dispose of burned charcoal in a safe manor, preferably in a metal container until cold throughout. Thank you and have a safe and happy summer.

WHEN SECONDS COUNT...

Can the Police, Fire, or Ambulance find your home when you need them for assistance with an emergency? Can they find it at night? Can they find it during a snowstorm?

Having your name and number on a mailbox is just not enough. Some mailboxes are clustered together. The numbers are small and the location may not mark the entrance to your driveway.

The Lee Firemen's Association, in a joint effort with the Lee Fire Department, has a program to install reflective house number signs at driveway entrances to assist all emergency responders in locating your home in a time of need. The cost for each sign with a post is $35.00 and it will be installed by the Lee Firemen's Association.

Please take the time NOW to SAVE TIME in an EMERGENCY.

Lee Public Library

WHAT'S HAPPENING AT THE LEE LIBRARY?

The library will reopen to the public on Monday, June 22nd. However, since space is limited (only eight patrons may be in the building at any one time), we ask that patrons continue to use curbside service as much as possible. Hours of operation may be found on the library's Facebook page. It is essential that we continue to take precautions and so we are requesting that patrons wear a mask in the library. There will be masks available. We appreciate our patrons' patience and support during this time.

Just in case you missed it there is a FREE trial of Tumblebooks going on now until August 31st. This fantastic online children's and youth website offers hundreds of picture books and youth titles to read long with, listen and watch and read on your own. We would love to know what you think of this platform. It is something we could consider adding to our collection on a permanent basis.

OYSTER RIVER SCHOOL BOARD NEWS

The popular REACH summer enrichment program, a collaboration between Durham Parks & Recreation and the Oyster River Schools, is offering REACH-in-a-Box activity kits for kids and families to explore each week between June 29th - August 7th. The initial set of materials has sold out, and the team that organized the kits is working to find additional materials to be able to offer more REACH Boxes.

The grant-supported school meal program is continuing to deliver meals to children who have signed up across Oyster River through June 12th. For June 15th - June 30th, requested meals can be picked up at ORHS or Mast Way School. The Child Nutrition department is assessing community interest and possibilities for providing meals in July and August after the grant ends.

An informal survey regarding Remote Learning received 819 parent and guardian responses, and 621 responses from middle and high school students. Thank you to students and families for the huge amount of feedback. The school administration and school board are just beginning to review these data.

The 1:1 student laptop program started with the middle school in the 2018-2019 school year. For the 2019-2020 school year it expanded to cover grades 5-9. Starting in fall 2020, all ORHS and ORMS students will be included in the 1:1 program.
