SIGN REMINDER

It can be a political sign, a graduate sign, a religious sign, etc. But only one (1) is allowed, not one of each type. The one sign may not exceed six (6) square feet in size and it must be located out of the town or state's Right of Way (ROW). If you should have any questions, please contact crossi@leenh.org or 659-6783. Thank you for your cooperation on helping to keep our town beautiful☺

TOWN MUNICIPAL OFFICES RE-OPENING PLANS

Almost as soon as Governor Sununu declared a state of Emergency due to the pandemic, employees have been working on a rotating schedule at Town Hall and the Annex so that only one person at a time is on site while the other employees work remotely. Although the work is still getting done, it is certainly not the most efficient system; and, while the public has been most kind and patient, they, too, are ready for us to get to the next phase of working with Covid-19 as a reality for the foreseeable future.

Although Town Hall is a lovely, historic building, the Select Board has determined, through consultation with architects and engineers, as well as town staff, including the Health Officer and Emergency Management Director that the structure is not conducive to being modified in such a way as to make it safe and effective for both the employees and members of the public. Therefore, the Select Board, after a number of public discussions, is moving forward with plans to lease an office building on Rte. 125 owned by Daley Realty Trust. Town employees who normally work out of Town Hall and the Annex would move into this building.

We are working with Mr. Daley on a lease agreement and with the NH Department of Transportation to ensure a prudent means of ingress and egress off of Rte. 125. We have received quotes for the modifications that will need to be made to the building in order to provide safe spaces for the public and employees to socially distance from each other. Each department will have its own entrance to the building (these entrances already exist) and each entrance has sufficient parking. The Department of Revenue has approved the Select Board's request for an emergency appropriation, with funds to come out of the unassigned fund balance so that no additional taxpayer dollars will be required for the modification costs and twelve months' lease payments. We are confident that some of these costs will be reimbursed through the Covid-19 Municipal Relief Fund. The Select Board has been meeting regularly via the Zoom platform and we invite all members of the public to join us as we continue to discuss this plan. Agendas, minutes and videos of the meetings can be found on the town's website www.leenh.org.

SMALL BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION AND TREASURY RELEASED NEW INFORMATION as of AUGUST 11TH

- Frequently Asked Questions – FAQs # 50 and #51 have been added (Released 8/11/20)
- Frequently Asked Questions For Loan Forgiveness (Released 8/11/20) Look closely at pages 10 and 11 for updated info on how EIDL advance and PPP forgiveness will work.
- Summary of PPP lending as of 8/8/20 (Released 8/11/20)

As you will see in the closing report for the Paycheck Protection Program above, the agency approved over 5 million applications for $525B in funding with nearly 25,000 New Hampshire businesses receiving $2.5B. As of August 8th, the program has expired and is no longer accepting applications. On the SBA direct lending side, the SBA Disaster Office has made strides in getting through the over 10 million loan applications. So far, just over 11,000 New Hampshire businesses have received $650mm. The application portal is still open and accepting applications at www.covid19relief.sba.gov. The Advance for this program has run out of funding and is no longer available. There were approximately 20,000 NH businesses that received the advance before the funding expired.

Speaking of the Office of Disaster and the Economic Injury Disaster Loan (EIDL) Program, we are receiving some inquiries regarding fraudulent reports with the EIDL loan process. If you come across this with any clients, please have them reach out to the SBA OIG at one of the following contacts or they can complete an online complaint at the link below:

Telephone: OIG Hotline at 1-800-767-0385

Email: OIGHotline@sba.gov

Website: Complete the on-line OIG Complaint Submission Form at <https://www.sba.gov/office-of-inspector-general>

The point of contact for questions regarding suspicious activity associated with the COVID-19 EIDL loan program is eidl.ach.inquiries@sba.gov.

Just a reminder that also included in SBA's disaster recovery programs is 6 months of forgiveness payments on any new loan made and disbursed by 9/27/2020. This is a good time for businesses to look at their balance sheet and consider talking to their lender about any new purchases needed or eligible debt restructuring to get as financially healthy as they can be. There is still time to take advantage of this, but time is getting short.

On our outreach and marketing side, we are starting to filter in some of our normal activities. We have a virtual Boots-to-Business coming up in late August, we are going to be introducing weekly webinars on different topics beginning in September, and we continue to have our weekly Wednesday morning virtual update and our monthly small business start-up webinars with the NH Secretary of State. We are trying to keep you all informed with our monthly partner emails but you can always join our email list to make sure you know what we and our partners are up to.

Our staff is also available to participate in any of your upcoming calls or webinars to give an overview of SBA programs and disaster assistance available in NH, so please reach out if you are interested. Thank you for all you are doing to help NH's small business community. It has been incredible to see all of the technical and financial resources provided and the difference it is making across the state and the country!

New Hampshire Agriculture COVID-19 Relief Program Expansion and Additional Funding Round Application Available

Application Deadline: August 31, 2020

Concord, NH -- The Governor's Office for Emergency Relief & Recovery and the New Hampshire Department of Agriculture, Markets & Food announce that the New Hampshire Agriculture COVID-19 Relief Program has been expanded to include farms that did not qualify initially, or missed the registration deadline ("Expanded Farm Program"). The Expanded Farm Program supports smaller farms with less than $50,000 of 2019 gross sales which were ineligible initially.

Governor Chris Sununu has authorized the allocation and expenditure of $2.5 million from the CARES Act Coronavirus Relief Fund ("flex funds") to support non-dairy farms, in order to ease the burden of substantial new COVID-19-related costs like extra cleaning and sanitizing, ensuring social distancing, and lost sales. This includes $1.5 million previously allocated to specialty crop producers that had at least $50,000 of 2019 gross sales and registered for the program by June 22, 2020, and an additional $1 million to allow the Expanded Farm Program.

The Expanded Farm Program offers financial assistance to farms that cannot apply through the existing program specifically for specialty crop producers, whether because they had less than $50,000 of 2019 gross sales, or missed the registration deadline. Instead of the $50,000 threshold, the Expanded Farm Program has a much lower, application period-specific threshold based on COVID-19-related losses. Specifically, a farm is eligible to apply for relief funding, if, during the applicable time period, the farm had average COVID-19-related expenses of at least $500 per month, or average COVID-19-related lost sales of at least $1,000 per month (as compared to 2019). The significantly lower threshold makes agriculture relief available to smaller farms, while ensuring it still helps those most in need of financial assistance. This funding opportunity is available to all agricultural producers, rather than specialty crop producers only.

An eligible farm under the Expanded Farm Program, like registered specialty crop producer, can submit up to three applications, but without having to register ahead of time.

The Expanded Farm Program application period for COVID-19-related expenses and/or lost sales incurred during the period from March 1, 2020 to June 30, 2020 is NOW OPEN and available here: https://nhpublichealth.force.com/nhgoferr/Proposal\_Core\_Listing\_Page. The deadline is August 31, 2020 at 11:59 PM.

The next application deadlines for both registered specialty crop producers and expanded farms are:

- October 15, 2020, for July 1, 2020 to September 30, 2020
- December 10, 2020, for October 1, 2020 to November 30, 2020

For more information, visit <https://www.goferr.nh.gov/covid-expenditures/nh-agriculture-grants>, or contact Gail McWilliam Jellie at gail.d.mcwilliamjellie@agr.nh.gov, or 603-271-3551.

Public Information Office

603-271-9389 or pio@dhhs.nh.govNH DHHS Announces Online Purchasing Program for SNAP Recipients

Concord, NH – The New Hampshire Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS), Division for Economic and Housing Stability (DEHS) has received approval from the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) to participate in a pilot program that allows recipients of Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) benefits to purchase and pay for groceries online. The SNAP Online Purchasing Pilot program allows the use of Electronic Benefits Transfer (EBT) cards to purchase eligible food items through two authorized online retailers, Amazon and Walmart.

“From the beginning of the COVID-19 emergency, we have worked hard to ensure that our residents are able to safely access the things their families need when they need them the most,” said Governor Chris Sununu. “Online purchasing provides additional flexibility for all Granite State SNAP recipients, allowing them more ways to use their SNAP benefits to make sure their families have access to healthy and nutritious food during the pandemic and beyond.”

“Online purchasing is one more way New Hampshire residents can access good nutrition throughout the duration of the COVID-19 pandemic,” said DHHS Commissioner Lori Shibinette. “Purchasing groceries online is safe, secure, and helps people maintain social distancing measures that help slow the spread of COVID-19 in our communities.”

SNAP recipients will be able to purchase eligible food items, but will not be able to use benefits for service or delivery charges.

Participation in the pilot program is one of several measures DHHS has taken to reduce concerns around food insecurity during the COVID-19 pandemic. Others include the issuance of emergency SNAP benefits; the extension of certification periods for SNAP recipients; a temporary suspension of SNAP work requirements for eligible individuals; participation in Pandemic EBT (P-EBT), which provides families with children enrolled in the National School Lunch Program additional SNAP benefits due to the loss of school meals during remote learning; and accepting applications by phone for the Women, Infants and Children program.

The SNAP Online Purchasing Pilot was established by the federal 2014 Farm Bill, which mandated a pilot to test the feasibility of allowing online transactions using SNAP benefits. In 2017, eight states were selected to be part of the pilot, which was launched in New York State in 2019, followed by Washington in January 2020. Additional states have joined the program as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic. For more information on the SNAP Online Purchasing Pilot program, please visit <https://www.dhhs.nh.gov/dfa/foodstamps/index.htm>.

NH HOUSING RELIEF PROGRAM

As you know, the Governor's Office for Emergency Relief and Recovery (GOFERR) allocated $35 million from the $1.25 billion in federal funds that NH received from the CARES Act State-Local Coronavirus Relief Fund towards a new Housing Relief Program to assist families and individuals facing housing insecurity as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic. The program will have two components: 1) one-time grants for households that suffered a limited short-term loss of household income or increased expenses that threaten the family's ability to maintain its housing; and 2) short-term rental assistance program. The GOFERR office will provide the funds to NH DHHS to be distributed to the state's Community Action Program (CAP) agencies who already administer similar assistance programs. Today, CAP agencies released more information about the program. More details, including how to apply to your local CAP, can be found here.

NH Department of Health and Human Services

Resource Guide and Warm Line to Support Families During COVID-19

Concord, NH – The New Hampshire Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS), Division for Children, Youth and Families (DCYF) has developed two new resources to help children, youth, families and caregivers during the COVID-19 emergency.

The first is "Supporting Child and Family Wellbeing During the COVID-19 Emergency," a new resource guide with practical tips on how we can all support children and families during COVID-19. The guide also provides a list of resources available to families statewide. The second resource is the Family Support Warm Line, a partnership between DHHS and Waypoint. The Family Support Warm Line is a no-cost, confidential phone support line focused on promoting family resiliency. Residents can call 800-640-6486 and speak with family support professionals and parent partners for help with managing family challenges, coping strategies, or emotional support during COVID-19.

"Our data has shown a decline in the number of calls made to DCYF from those community helpers who regularly see kids face to face, but this is continues to be a stressful time for families and our focus has to remain on prevention," said DCYF Director Joseph Ribsam. "Having resources readily available and a place where parents and caregivers can turn if they need to talk to someone can make a difference for our families and guide them to the services they need to stay strong and healthy, before they reach a tipping point that leads to abuse or neglect."

The efforts stem from Emergency Order #22, issued by Governor Chris Sununu on April 1, which authorizes emergency funding for critical child protection services to ensure that New Hampshire families continue to receive the right services at the right time during the COVID-19 emergency. In addition to the Family Support Warm Line, the funding will support domestic violence and substance use supports, expansion of the DCYF Strength to Succeed Program, and additional technology support for DCYF-involved families.

March data from the Division for Children, Youth and Families (DCYF) shows a decrease in referrals to DCYF's Central Intake, compared to the same time period over the past two years. New child abuse and neglect referrals are down nearly 50% each week overall. To learn more about recognizing the signs of child abuse and neglect, visit Know and Tell, an education program offered through the Granite State Children's Alliance, the Chapter Organization for the network of New Hampshire's Child Advocacy Centers.

The Family Support Warm Line can be reached toll-free at 1-800-640-6486, Monday - Friday, 8:30 am - 4:30 pm. If you suspect child abuse or neglect, call the DCYF Central Intake line at (603) 271-6562 or toll-free (in state) at (800) 894-5533.

FOR MORE INFORMATION, STATE JOINT INFORMATION CENTER, 603-223-6169 or jic@dos.nh.gov

PLEASE BE ADVISED THAT WE ARE NOT WIPING DOWN PLAYGROUND EQUIPMENT, PICNIC BENCHES OR ANY OTHER SURFACES

The Town of Lee urges our residents and visitors to do their part to prevent the spread of COVID-19 in our community. If you go to a park or trail to exercise, use extreme caution. Maintain at least 6 feet of distance between yourself and others when outside and wear a mask if you cannot maintain this distance. Cookouts are now permitted in Little River Park.

YARD SALES AND TREE CUTTING NOTICE

Yard Sales are now allowed, but you may only place a sign on your own property or at a friend's house (be sure to get permission first) and remove the signs promptly after the yard sale is over. Signs are not allowed in the Lee triangle (where George Bennett, Mast and Lee Hill Roads meet) or on any other town-owned property, including on the side of both state and town roads. You must follow the guidance for retail establishments as well as the universal guidelines established by the Governor's office found here <https://www.covidguidance.nh.gov>

Although it is great to have your trees "removed for free" be sure that the logger follows all of the laws pertaining to tree cutting. As the homeowner, please reach out to Caren Rossi to see what is required, i.e. no-cut buffers, Intent to Cut form, etc. Unfortunately, I have seen many homeowners become a victim of this "offer" and it ends up costing the homeowner more money to fix the problems created by the "free" removal than hiring a company to remove them correctly. Unfortunately, the fault lies with the homeowner and you may have more than just brush to clean up.

THE TRANSFER STATION IS OPEN BUT PLEASE READ THE FOLLOWING

TRANSFER STATION HOURS

Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays 7:00 am – 6:00 pm

The Swap Shop will remain closed until further notice.

PLEASE REMEMBER TO GET A TRANSFER STATION STICKER IF YOU DON'T ALREADY HAVE ONE
Stickers are only good for two years!

The easiest way is to get your sticker when you register your car. If you have already done so and still do not have a sticker, they are available at the Transfer Station or at Town Hall. Proof of residency, such as a recent utility bill, lease or rental agreement, or recent tax bill, and your car registration will be required. If you have any questions regarding documentation please contact us at Town Hall or you may refer to the Solid Waste Ordinance, available HERE.

CHANGES TO MIXED PAPER

Mixed paper should now be placed with Municipal Solid Waste (MSW) until further notice. We are doing this to protect our employees, as it takes a great deal of handling and sorting in order to make it recyclable. When we are no longer under the conditions brought on by the COVID-19 pandemic, we will switch to having residents separate office paper and magazines from other types of paper in order to maximize our recycling revenue.

PLEASE CONTINUE PRACTICING SOCIAL DISTANCING

Both bays remain open as we have seen an improvement in the flow of traffic, but everyone has to maintain the recommended safe distance of 6' while inside. In order for our employees and residents to maintain a safe distance, employees will not be stationed on the wall during this time but will be available to answer questions.

PLEASE KEEP CHILDREN IN YOUR VEHICLE

PLEASE have your child(ren) stay in your vehicle while you are disposing of trash and recyclables. This is for their safety! If they have to be out of the vehicle please keep them next to you at all times and do not let them run through the Transfer Station, roadways or parking areas.

There are several important issues you must be aware of regarding your household trash and recycling disposal if you or anyone in your household has been quarantined for COVID-19 or has tested positive for COVID-19. Your trash and recycling must be handled and disposed of under different rules. Please consult Caren Rossi, Lee's Health Officer to discuss the new steps that must be taken. Email is crossi@leenh.org or phone at 659-6783. Thank you for your cooperation.

Bulky items are accepted at the Transfer Station, HOWEVER, payment will be by check only – there will be a drop box available. Employees will not be able to assist with removing items from your vehicle but will be available to guide you, weigh items, and answer your questions.

THINGS TO DO AND SEE AND PLACES TO GO: AUGUST 14th – AUGUST 27th

Ideas from the Conservation Commission

Terrestrial

Twilight/Night walks: The insect chorus is at "Volume 11" right now, and will continue to be for another two months. Barred owls are occasionally calling in the early evening. Bats may be seen capturing insects attracted to outside lighting. There's a lot to hear and see in the cool of the evening - enjoy it while it lasts, the first hard frost will put an end to most our singers, giving notice that winter's great silence is on its way.

Pajama Walk: For those with children, try this as a before-bed activity. Get washing up, teeth-brushing, and pj-ing done, and then take a leisurely walk around the yard or around the cul-de-sac. Bring a flashlight to get a look at crickets and katydids singing, but also enjoy, just for a bit, walking about in the dark and experiencing life as a nocturnal critter. It's a special activity and a peaceful way to end the day and the prospect of a pajama walk may speed along those pre-bedtime chores.

Critter Cards: Mass Audubon's Joppa Flats Education Center has issued two new critter cards. Each card provides information and several activities that you and your child can do. Folks are encouraged to post their observations, drawings, paintings, photos, poems, etc.

This week's critter card features monarch butterflies, the world's most famous butterfly. <https://tinyurl.com/y3kxm23u>

As well as posting about outdoor/indoor activities for families and how to enjoy the outdoors while keeping safe during this period of social distancing, Amanda finds things to amuse, comfort and delight. Her work makes our Facebook page a lively, fun, and informative place to visit. Also posted are weekly Nature Notes (published on Sunday mornings; this week's Nature Notes is the third of a three part series on milkweed. ### Winged Creature of the Week: Ruby-Throated Hummingbird Part 1: Anatomy

If there's a bird that needs no introduction it's this one. Hummingbirds are a family of avians recognized by just about everyone. With their long, thin beaks, impossibly rapid wing beats, and tiny size, hummingbirds are known the world over. Even people who aren't that into birds get excited when they see one of these tiny, vibrant, nectar-sippers.

Just a single hummingbird species breeds in eastern North America, the ruby-throated, Archilochus colubris. Its breeding range is huge - the largest of any North American hummingbird, looping across southern Canada from Alberta to Quebec and Nova Scotia and down into the eastern half of the United States. This is such a special bird, with so many unique adaptations, characteristics, and behaviors that to do it justice would take much more space than one of these Wednesday writings allow. Even the two articles that I'm allotting aren't nearly enough (though they will give me the opportunity to use more of Andrea LeBlanc's wonderful photographs). So, Reader, if these pages pique your interest, there are books upon books and videos galore to more than satisfy your curiosity. Hummingbirds, particularly the ruby-throated, have long inspired writers and painters and filmmakers, so there are plenty of works from which to choose.

Of the 360 known hummingbird species, the ruby-throated, weighing less than two dimes and only three to three and a three quarters inch long, is one of the smallest in the genus. Feathers, whether they're wing feathers, tail features or the body-hugging contour feathers, are correspondingly small, and surprisingly sparse. With an average of 940 feathers, this species has the fewest feathers of any bird on Earth - but what wonderful feathers they are! From the top of the head to the rump, both male and female are covered with metallic green feathers that change from a golden, peridot green on their heads to leaf green on their backs and rumps. The female has a mask of grey feathers, while the male's mask is black. With the exception of a few reddish brown spots on her chin and throat, the female's underparts are entirely white. The male sports a gleaming metallic red throat, called the gorget, which can switch from ruby red to almost black; depending upon how the light hits it. This is because the green and red coloring of ruby-throated hummingbirds isn't due to pigment but is due to structures of these feathers, which act as prisms, refracting the light and making the back feathers green and the male's throat red. The base colors of these refracting feathers is black, so if light doesn't hit the feathers at just the right angle to produce the hummingbird's brilliant, metallic colors, they appear dark.

Ruby-throated, like all hummingbirds are built for speed, maneuverability, and agility. Their wings are put together quite differently from those of other avians. Most birds have wings which bend at the elbow and wrist while beating in a vertical plane; in this type of wing anatomy power and lift is generated on the down stroke. When hummingbirds flap, their wings twist at the humerus enabling them to invert their wings. Because of this, they can generate power on the upstroke as well as the down stroke. These twistable wings are what enable the hummingbird to hover in front of flower blossoms while its wings trace a rapid figure-eight. This unique wing structure also allows hummingbirds, alone among the world's bird species, to fly backward, straight up, straight down, and upside down. All while beating their wings up to 90 times a second, and in the process, creating the humming sound for which they are named. The breast and wing muscles powering these rapid wing beats are large and make up almost 35% of the ruby-throated hummingbird's weight.

The engine that runs these rapidly beating wings is an incredible cardiopulmonary system. Relative to their size, hummingbirds have hearts larger than any other bird, and these hearts pump at a tremendous rate. A ruby throated's heart chugs away at 200 beats per minute when at rest and over 1250 beats per minute when in flight. Such a furiously beating heart demands a lot of oxygen, and hummingbirds, not surprisingly, have the highest oxygen requirements of all the world's vertebrates. At rest, the ruby throated hummingbird will take 250 breaths per minute, a rate which doubles when the bird is in flight.

Like all perching birds, hummingbirds have four toes, three in front and one in back. However, as you can see in the above picture, the feet are quite small in relation to the hummingbird's size and set far back in the body. Swifts, distant relatives of hummingbirds, share this trait and the families of both are placed in the order Apodiformes, a word which, in Latin, means "footless". Though hummingbirds are by no means footless (nor are swifts), their feet are too far back to allow them to walk. Nor can they use their feet to launch themselves into the air - the wings do all of that. Feet are, instead, used for perching, scratching, and if the hummingbird is female, nest construction and shaping.

As is true for all members of its family, ruby throated hummingbirds have excellent vision, and their color vision far outstrips that of many animals, including humans. In addition to the colors you and I see, hummingbirds see colors in the ultraviolet range allowing them to pick up the ultraviolet patterns on flowers known as "nectar guides" directing pollinators to the location of the nectaries.

Shaped by evolution over millions of years, the beak of a hummingbird is a beautiful tool. Though structurally the same as most bird beaks, hummingbird's long, needle-shaped beak enables it to probe into the nectaries of flowers, particularly tubular flowers. The ruby-throated's beak makes up a fifth of its body length. Inside is an even longer tongue, so long in fact, that when it's not being used to drink, the tongue wraps under the jaw behind and over the hummingbird's skull! The tongue is forked and lined with little hair-like structures called lamellae. As the hummingbird feeds, it flicks its tongue in and out at twelve times per second. When the tongue is in a flower, or hummingbird feeder, the two tips of its forked tongue separate, pointing the lamellae forward; as the tongue is flicked back into the beak, the tips of the fork come together, causing the lamellae to roll back and thus trapping the nectar inside the tongue.

The command center for this amazing little flying machine is an equally amazing brain, and here, again, we come to superlatives. Relative to its size a hummingbird has the largest brain of any bird on the planet. Making up 4.2 percent of its body mass (our own brain makes up 2 percent of our body mass), the hummingbird's brain is, none-the-less extremely tiny - about the size of a pea. Research has revealed that despite its tiny size, this is an extremely intelligent brain. The hummingbird has a wonderful capacity for remembering, powered by a hippocampus (the part of the brain where learning and remembering happens) that is five times larger than that of many other birds including songbirds. A large memory is a crucial asset for a miniature bird that must feed constantly when awake, and it's this capacious memory that makes hummingbirds such superb foragers - remembering where flowers are located and how long it will be before a flower it has fed on has refilled with nectar. Our hummingbird, the ruby-throated, puts far greater demands on its brain's capacity to remember. Not only must it remember where to forage on its breeding territory, it has to remember all the places to forage as it migrates to its wintering grounds and then back north again come spring. It's something I think about often at this time of year, when our resident hummers are feeding constantly, tanking up for a journey of 1600 miles or more to their wintering grounds in Florida, Mexico and Central America. It seems such a staggeringly long way to go, when you weigh less than two dimes.

Celestial

August 11, 12, 13, Looking east between midnight and dawn - Perseid Meteor Shower: The peak night, as far as numbers are concerned was the 12th, with as many as 40-50 meteors per hour, but there's less "moon glare" tonight, so, if you're a night owl, or just feel like seeing some meteors, tonight will give you more than a few to enjoy. Even if you're not a night owl, the Perseids throw the occasional "pre-wee hours" meteor our way, so it's worth a walk outside any time once the sky gets dark. Several folks in Lee reported seeing meteors between the hours of 10:00 and 11:00.

These meteors appear to stream out of the constellation Perseus, hence the name. They are caused by debris shed by comet 109P/Swift-Tuttle when it orbits the sun every 133 years. As these cometary bits enter the earth's atmosphere they burn up while streaking across the sky. 109P/Swift-Tuttle is a large comet - 16 miles across (twice the size of the comet/asteroid that wiped out the dinosaurs 65 million years ago). Named after the two American astronomers who discovered it, independent of each other, in 1862, this was the 109th periodic comet to be recorded by astronomers.

Before Sunrise (@ 5:00-5:45 a.m.), Looking East: The waning crescent moon and Venus put on a lovely dance along the ecliptic these next few evenings, and both are so bright that evening the advancing sun doesn't completely erase their glow. If you do get up before the horizon grows rosy, chances are, you'll see a few meteors as well.

8:45 and later, Looking South, Anytime this month - Find the Teapot and Look into the Center of Our Galaxy: The Teapot is a well-known asterism (distinct pattern of stars) located in the constellation Sagittarius (The Archer) viewable in our hemisphere during summer. It hugs the horizon, and dark skies are best for optimal viewing, but you'll have Saturn and Jupiter, coasting along the ecliptic to help you pick it out.

If binoculars are available, use them to gaze along the right side of the teapot - along the edge of the lid and the spout. You'll see a path littered with starlight. That's our galaxy, The Milkyway, seen edgewise. The path grows wider and brighter as it approaches the center of the galaxy, where a supermassive black hole (and perhaps a companion black hole) lies.

August 20-23, After 8:00 p.m., Looking West - Waning Crescent Moon and Spica: The moon is very young, just a sliver of a crescent on the 20th, and finding Spica, the brightest star in the constellation Virgo, The Virgin, may be difficult in the sun's afterglow, but binoculars may help, and with each successive evening, both the ever-swelling moon and Spica will become easier to see.

Spica is a good example of a first magnitude star, and therefore listed among the brightest stars in the night sky. Spica is a blue sub-giant, with a radius of about seven times that of our own sun.

As always, these two online resources are a wonderful asset to help you and your family explore the night sky:

EarthSky (<https://earthsky.org/>). The EarthSky website provides several weeks' worth of nightly write-ups about what's going on in the night sky, along with a brief daily feature giving more in-depth information about a particular night-sky object. They've very generously given their permission to have their graphics used in this newsletter, and I encourage you and your children to visit their website.

Stellarium (<https://stellarium-web.org/>), has replaced StarAtlas, but remains an interactive map of the night sky. This new incarnation will set itself to your location. You can change the time and date to coincide with when you'll be star-gazing, and the map scrolls in all directions. If, for instance, in your location the best place for viewing the night sky happens to be facing west, just scroll the map to show the stars, planets and satellites that will appear in that part of the sky. Once you have the sky set for viewing time and direction, you can click on objects in the sky and an information box will appear giving the object's name plus information about brightness, type of object, etc. This is a fantastic website.

Notice : Change in Services Due to Social Distancing Recommendation

Ready Rides is still operating during this time. We have adjusted our services to reflect the recommendations in place and to protect both our drivers and riders while still remaining available to those most vulnerable without taking them from their homes to incur possible contact with the virus. We are still providing rides to patients who require life sustaining services such as dialysis, blood transfusions, injections etc. We will take each request as they come in and assess the depth of the need. We are suspending all rides to counseling, physical therapy and general health and dental checkups. We recommend you utilize family friends and neighbors who you already have regular contact with to help provide rides during this short suspension.

A service we are adding to our registered riders is pharmacy pickups and food pantry and grocery pickups. If you have placed an order with Walmart.com or Hannaford.com we have volunteers who will pickup these orders and bring them to your door with minimal contact.

If you are unable to order online and you are in desperate need of help with acquiring food or some necessity here are some resources. Currently if you live in the town of Durham call 868-2324 for assistance. If you live in the town of Newfields call 772-9010 and ask for Helping hands for assistance.

Barrington, Lee, Madbury, New Market, Northwood, Barrington, Nottingham and Strafford towns do not directly have things in place yet. Call us here at 244-8719 and we will do our best to find a way to get you the help you need.

LEE FIRE & RESCUE DEPARTMENT

20 George Bennett Road
Lee, New Hampshire 03861
(P): 603.659.5411 (F): 603.659.9611

Jeffery S. Liporto
Deputy Chief

TIMELY TOPICS FOR THE SUMMER SEASON

We are still in the midst of the COVID-19 and therefore still have to operate as such to protect our personnel and the public. We are still fully staffed and operating to protect our community but have had to put a hold on or adjust the way we provide some of our services. The fire department remains closed to all visitors but are working with town officials and the State for recommendations. All official business will continue to be conducted by phone or via email for now. Phone numbers and email addresses are provided on the Fire Department's web page.

Burn permits are still required for all outside burning and all State burning regulations are still in effect. Burning regulations and permits can be obtained at NH Fire Permit. Please check to see what the fire class for the day is prior to lighting any outside fire. Class 3 day or higher, all outside burning is not allowed. You can find out what fire class day it is by visiting the NH Forest and Lands website or look at the road side board at the Lee Public Safety Complex.

All station tours continue to be suspended as are all home visits for wood stove, burn permit and inspection purposes. Furnace installation inspections will be conducted on an emergency basis for emergency replacement only. All furnace replacement work shall be coordinated through the Fire Chief's office before any work is to be done.

Hopefully the virus emergency will be over soon and we can slowly return our operations to a normal level. All inquiries regarding the Town's response and current status for the virus should be made to the Town's Health Officer, Caren Rossi at the Planning Department.

With summer come thunder storms. Some storms can be severe and contain lightning, hail and wind. When lightning is in the area you should seek shelter indoors and away from windows. Do not shelter under trees or near tall objects. Be aware during high winds of trees, branches, power lines and debris being blown down. Occasionally these storms can cause downed power lines and power outages. We would like to remind everyone that we consider all downed lines as "energized" and should never be touched, moved or driven over. That includes cable and phone lines as they could be in contact with power lines at some point in the system. Call the fire department immediately and keep everyone away from the lines until the fire department arrives.

With the power outages several people in our community use portable generators to power their homes. When using a portable generator follow all manufacture's safety guidelines for your generator. They should be run at least twenty-five feet from the residence; exhaust should be point away from the residence and away from anything combustible. Never operate a generator in an enclosed space such as a garage or a shed. Generators emit carbon monoxide and can cause serious injury or death if run in-doors and carbon monoxide is allowed to accumulate.

As the water in rivers, ponds and lakes warm up and people begin swimming and boating, please take care and be safe. Be aware that we have had a colder than usual spring and night time temperatures can still drop into the low 40's. This has kept our water temperatures on the cold side. Please be aware that hypothermia is still possible even though air temperatures can be in the 80's and 90's if the water temperature is in the 50's or 60's. This is especially true for the very young and the older population. Use personal floatation devices while boating, water skiing, tubing etc. Never swim alone even if you are a good swimmer. Follow all NH State Boating Regulations while boating on NH waterways.

Use caution while outdoor grilling. Keep grills at a safe distance from the residence or other structures while cooking. Have a hose or dry chemical extinguisher nearby to extinguish any grill fires before they get out of control. Make sure propane tanks are in date for hydrotesting and the gas lines are in good condition and not leaking. Dispose of burned charcoal in a safe manor, preferably in a metal container until cold throughout. Thank you and have a safe and happy summer.

WHEN SECONDS COUNT... Please take the time NOW to SAVE TIME in an EMERGENCY.

Can the Police, Fire, or Ambulance find your home when you need them for assistance with an emergency? Can they find it at night? Can they find it during a snowstorm? Having your name and number on a mailbox is just not enough. Some mailboxes are clustered together. The numbers are small and the location may not mark the entrance to your driveway.

The Lee Firemen's Association, in a joint effort with the Lee Fire Department, has a program to install reflective house number signs at driveway entrances to assist all emergency responders in locating your home in a time of need. The cost for each sign with a post is $35.00 and it will be installed by the Lee Firemen's Association.

Regional & State News & Events

OYSTER RIVER SCHOOL BOARD NEWS – AUGUST 5, 2020

The Oyster River School Board met August 5th to select a framework for the start of the school year. The board and administration appreciate the 90+ emails and phone calls, as well as over 1700 parent survey responses that provided significant community input into these decisions.

The 1st day of classes for students is being delayed until September 2nd, to allow teachers and staff additional time to plan for the start of the year.

Mast Way and Moharimet will start the year with students attending for ½ days, 4 days per week. A fully-remote option will also be offered for elementary students.

Middle and High School students will begin the school year with remote classes, though the school buildings will be open and students with specific needs may have some school work in the buildings. This will be determined on a case-by-case basis and may include students who are new to their school buildings, or for whom additional in-person contact is needed for academic or social-emotional learning.

The school district will ask each family to re-enroll for the fall to ensure accurate numbers of students for classes and bus transportation. Parents should watch for more information the week of August 10th.

The school board and administration will monitor and re-evaluate the selected model as the school year gets started, with the possibility of changes 6-9 weeks into the school year (or sooner if circumstances change abruptly).

The NHIAA has delayed the start of any fall sports practices until after Labor Day, and the school board will consider fall athletics options at its next meeting on August 19th.
